

NEWS RELEASE

Congratulation to our First Class Honours Graduates!

01 August 2005, Singapore - Informatics, a provider of quality lifelong learning services is proud of its first class honours graduates graduating from various degree programmes in the area of business, information technology and engineering.

“We are happy and proud of their achievement after all the hard work they have put it. We believe they will put their knowledge acquired into good use.” Lawrence Wee – Vice President of Global Higher Education and PurpleTrain of Informatics Holdings Ltd.

“This degree has made a milestone in my personal life, and definitely there will be a significant impact on my present and future career. It is beneficial personally and (potentially) financially after obtaining the degree. The course offered by the University and the school running this programme has also contributed to my success. I am now an Assistant Service Manager in a German MNC.” Raymond Ng Ling Ping, first class honours graduate - Bachelor of Engineering (Hons) in Electrical and Electronic Engineering.
